The Redstone Companies continues support of Kris Brown's Kick Club and Texas Children's Hospital

March 6, 2009 - The Redstone Companies was on hand as Houston, Texans kicker, Kris Brown, presented Texas Children's Hospital with the funds raised through the sixth year of the Kris Brown's Kick Club. This year, The Kick Club raised $88,500 for Texas Children's charity care program.

The Kick Club, launched by Kris and his wife Amy, is designed to help the patients and families of Texas Children's Hospital. For every point Kris scores in the regular season, the Browns, along with corporate sponsors, donate $250 to Texas Children's charity care program. The Kick Club sponsors include Academy Sports & Outdoors, Amegy Bank, Clear Channel, Continental Airlines, Nelson and Company, The Redstone Companies and Rhino Marketing.

Kris Brown's inspiration to create The Kick Club came from personal experience. At the age of 11, Kris's sister was diagnosed with a rare form of cancer. Brown remembers support he and his family received during that time and felt a desire to give back to the community. Since its inception in 2003, The Kick Club has raised more than $670,000 providing financial relief to families facing overwhelming medical costs.

At the check presentation, Kris Brown was accompanied by his wife and children, as well as Corporate Sponsors of Kris Brown's Kick Club, including representatives from Amegy Bank, Nelson and Company and The Redstone Companies.
